

HISTORY STUDY CENTER

What is it?

History Study Center is a research database that collects historical reference material and current events. Over 40,000 primary and secondary sources are collected and organized in to study units, reference works, pictures, and videos. History Study Center provides annotated links to reliable websites for additional research, and full text of 80 journals.

Who's it for?

High School and beyond

How do I find what I need?

Keyword search for topics in the database or by content type

Advanced Search:

- Refine by resource type
- Limit to biographical information only
- Study Units
- Historical Documents
- Maps and Reference
- Multimedia
- Journals

How can I use it?

- Prepare text sets for students when they begin researching a topic
- Examine primary and secondary sources
- Analyze photographs and video as non-print resources and teach the appropriate strategies
- Use the document based questions that are associated with the study units as assessments and teaching tools
- Use as a beginning search point for extended research projects
- Teach validity of resources with the links provided and those they find on their own
